Skiing in the 21st Century – Call For Artists

The Columbine Gallery in Frisco, CO announces a juried exhibition for Rocky Mountain artists, March 15-April 15, 2010. There is a long history of art inspired by skiing. Most of the classic prints and artwork are from the early years of skiing. The last era that had a significant amount of recognizable ski art is the 1970s. This exhibition asks: “What kind of art does skiing and snowboarding inspire in the 21st century?”

Art must be an original painting in any media which presents a vision of skiing and snowboarding in the 21st century. Digital image submissions must be received by email or postal mail by March 1, 2010. Notification to artists will be sent by March 3, 2010. All selected paintings must be received by the Columbine Gallery by March 10, 2010.

Thirty pieces will be selected for the show and a panel of three jurors will award the top three prizes.

1st - $300

2nd - $150

3rd - $100

Artists must fill out the form below for consideration and provide digital images in a common file format of their work either through email: business@columbineart.com (up to 1meg file) or via CD/DVD mailed to

Columbine Gallery/PO Box 551/Frisco, CO 80443

Artist may present up to three (3) pieces for consideration.

All pieces selected for the show will be displayed at the Columbine Gallery from March 15 – April 15. All pieces must be available for purchase and artist will be paid 60% of the retail price for any work sold. Artist must arrange to retrieve any unsold work after April 15, 2010.
